Here Are Christmas Gifts For All You Nice People

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Olde, jolly St. Nick popped into the office yesterday and for some strange reason his face shone like a Sun. 'Twas perhaps he has been associating with The Sun news gnomes—Dick Osborn, Bob Rapida, Norm Colby and Bill Hines.

With a "ho-ho-ho and a ha-ha-ha," the jolly Santa revealed a wonderful list of gifts he is showering on us starting at midnight tonight. If you promise not to tell—well, here is the list:

To those children who walk to school: Some clear, safe walking areas.

To all drivers: Detailed maps of the fantastic interchanges now being built.

To Sun proofreaders: New glasses.

To the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Board: Some fresh air and a new device for autos to eliminate the nasty exhaust fumes.

To the Sanitary District: Low bids on future work and a low tax rate.

Let's keep the spirit

To our ministers: Large attendance each week and the presence of the Christmas spirit all the year.

To Cancer Society: THE answer.

To Red Cross: No disasters.

To Marie Monahan: A rhyming dictionary.

To all fire commissioners: Fireman's hat and a direct telephone line to all fire stations.

To the Jaycees: The energy and ability to live up to their wonderful creed.

To Alamo Improvement Association: One year without a major zoning battle.

To our readers: Tolerance and patience.

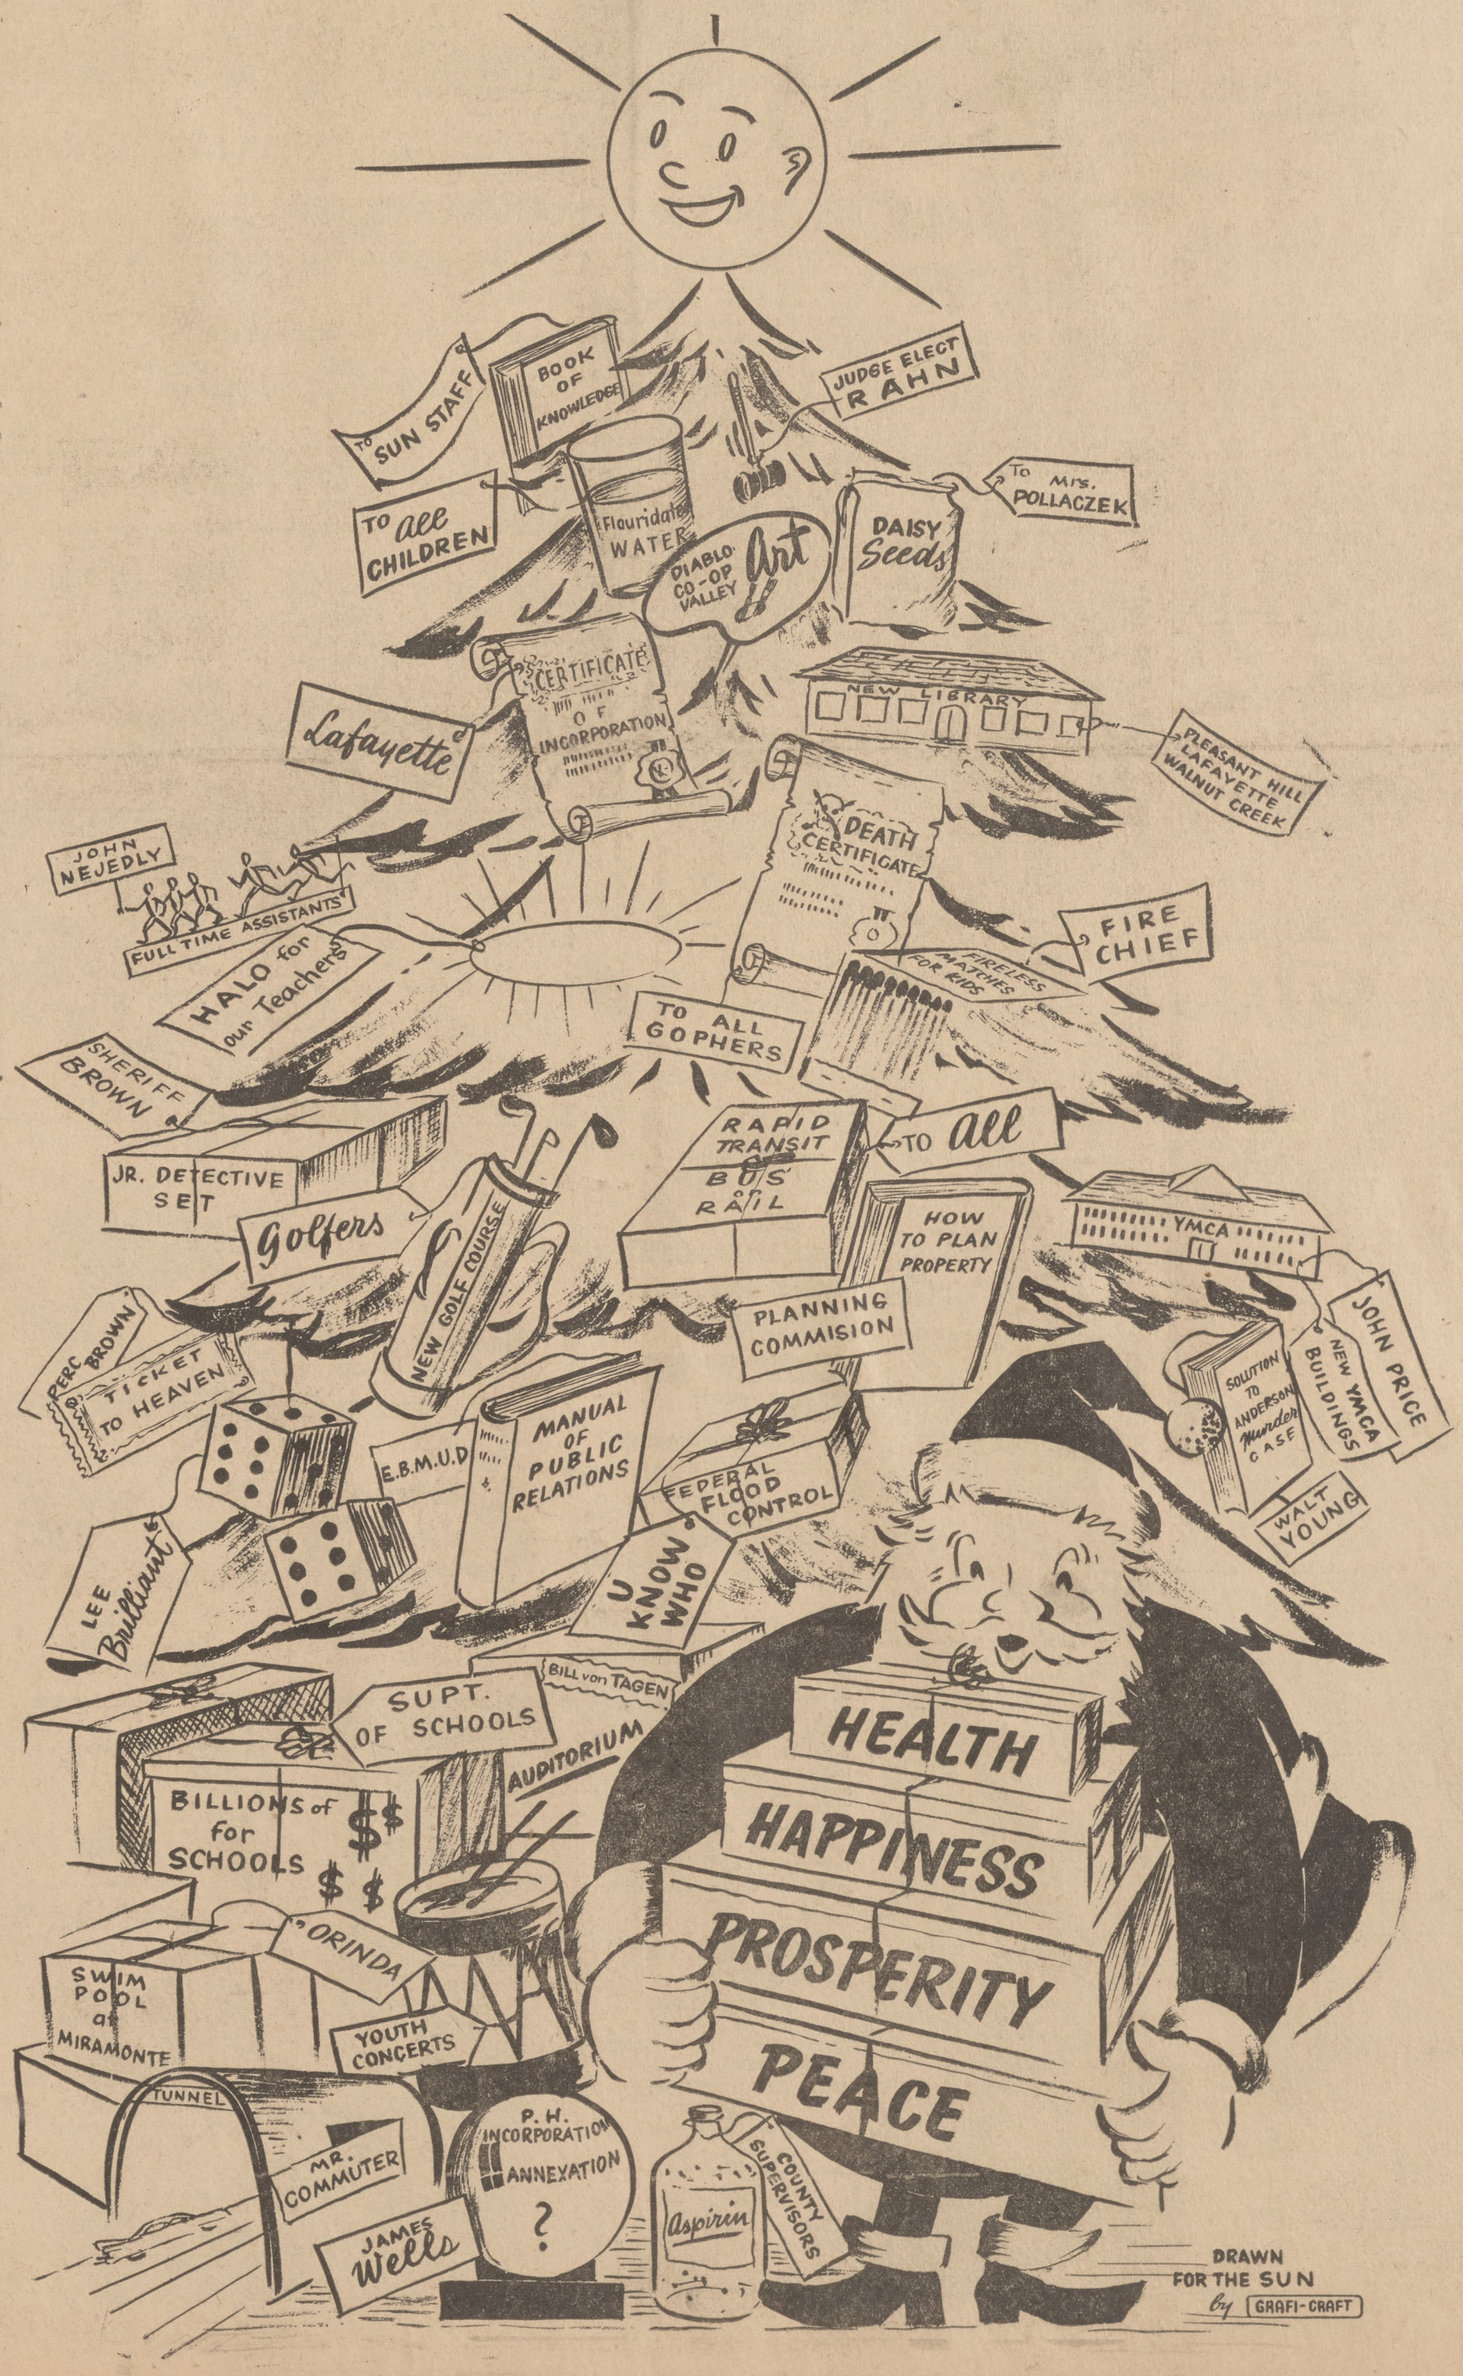
A Christmas Present to You from The Sun



Drinking Driver Crackdown Starts Today, Warns CHP

An all out campaign against drinking drivers went into effect today, according to R. R. Magill, captain of the California Highway Patrol.

"No quarter will be given to drinking drivers and every man in the Contra Costa section of the patrol will be on duty over the holidays to enforce the law," Magill stated.

IF YOU ARE convicted of a drunk driving charge for the first time you may expect imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than six months or to be punished by fine of not less than $250 nor more than $500.

Magill pointed out that a judge may impose the maximum of both fine and imprisonment.

Magill declined to comment on what would happen to persons who are convicted of drunk driving on a second occasion.

"ANYONE WHO has ever had a drunk driving ticket and has been convicted knows very well what will happen to them," Magill noted.

The standard "502" citation only concerns itself in drunk driving, Magill explained. Should there be an accident and there is personal injury, then the drunk driving becomes felonious.

"We're going to cover this county like a blanket and the drinking driver can expect the maximum penalties or fines," Magill exclaimed.

"HIGHWAY PATROLMEN and police officers are not hardened to a point where they do not wish to extend season's greetings to all, but death and injury are not to be taken lightly.

"Anyone who drinks and drives is a menace and has the potential to kill. He will be treated accordingly," Magill said.

Police Chief Leigh Brilliant of Walnut Creek said:

"DRINKING D R I V E R S and drunks in Walnut Creek will be treated just like they are every other day in the year—arrested."

"We are not going to take any chances," Magill said, "we plan on arresting any person who is driving a car and is acting in an erratic manner."

The California Highway Patrol will be working in close coordination with all county and city police officials and with agents of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for strict enforcement of all laws pertaining to drinking in taverns.

Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell and ABC Director Russell S. Munro, joining in a two-pronged attack on the drinking driver problem, promise professional enforcement action against all violators.

"OUR COOPERATIVE enforcement efforts have brought favorable results in the past," Munro declared. "Our agents will again work closely with the patrol in a determined campaign to control the excessive drinking situation on and off the highways.

"We are asking all military and local police agencies to join us in this effort during the holidays and we are looking forward to a broader and more effective program," Caldwell said.

"We are also conducting an extensive public information program which we hope will reach every user of our streets and highways between now and New Year's Eve."

In other announcements concerning drinking and the holidays it was announced that persons suspected of driving under the influence of alcoholic liquor or being drunk in public will have the advantage of voluntarily taking an alcohol-blood test at the Walnut Creek Police Station.

IN THE PAST, a suspect was examined by a qualified physician, who reported the suspect's actions and condition. But no blood test was available.

Now, the police station will have the facilities for the blood test, also to be given by the physician.

The test is a means by which the suspect can "scientifically" prove that he had little or nothing to drink, when he was picked up.

THERE IS no legal standard for the incriminating percentage of alcohol in the blood, and 15 per cent is considered a reliable dividing line by many police agencies.

Captain Magill stated that, although the majority of attention will be given to the drinking driver and reckless driving, all infractions of driving laws will be strictly enforced.

"Any infraction of the law may cause death or serious injury. It is our duty to insure that death and injury are avoided wherever possible," he concluded.

CHRISTMAS KALEIDOSCOPE . . . A few days before Xmas, like Monday last, the tempo takes up a new acceleration, accelebration. There may be no last minute shopping to do, but somehow the sparkling stores w/their tired clerks & their tired merchandise attract like magnets, mesmerizing the shoppers who throng along in a fog of good feeling, good fellowship.

A Sea of Faces. And if you smile, they smile back. Good Will to Men. And no matter how pre-occupied or sour or sad they may appear, everyone is filled w/that innerglow, NOT a Scrooge among 'em. A sea of faces, all of them different—in their ways of Life, their wiles, their wants, their wherewithal, yet all of them fundamentally alike, hoping for that possible Peace On Earth.

ORINDA, at eventide, like a Fairyland, bathed in sparkling colored lights . . . The come-hither holiday dress of the houses, the outdoor-lighted rooftops out Moraga Highway where Santa probably swooped down in his sleigh first at their bright beckoned beaconed call of Christmas . . . The pretty pink & red lights parading over the hillsides, a welcoming sight as you tool into town from a tiring trek to the Big City . . . The pretty potted plants, wearing collars of red bows.

And the pretty potted people, wearing red bow ties, wending, winding, weaving homeward, and GLAD, glad, glad, to be there! (Those office parties have GOT to Go!)

Follow Me in Merry Measure

AT ORINDA STORE, the Bergdorf-Goodman of the Grocery Stores, one pretty young matron dashing into the gift-shop boutique literally "grabbing up" glassware, treasures & trinkets w/nary a look at the price-tags while her young hubby stands helplessly, leaning for support on a door jamb & saying softly—"Gee, Honey, why didn't you do all this in October?"

The last-minute melee of Mamas w/moppets in tow—for holiday haircuts or a new tie to wear to church—("What? No red ones left?") . . . The inevitable realization that Here, At Last, is THE DAY, and didn't you mean to get yourself some sassy red satin slippers? Me Too!

THE SEASON to be merry . . . And to do something special. Like Architect Lee Darrow & Pat & their son Brian, who celebrated his 1st Christmas, holding Open House for 3 nights running, culminating in a Christmas Eve ceremony at seven for the neighborhood young fry who were invited in to Pop The Pinata.

Or like the recently-wedded Gordon Daggetts whose cozy party for the Yuletide was held last Saturday eve at their Mira Loma domicile . . . Among old friends, George Kerrigan, and his wife Jane, SHE in white tiered lace sheath . . . The Hal O'Flahertys dropping in early, (literally dropping—after a shopping session in the crowded stores).

BILL & PAT Borbridge coming in from next door, he running home just like clockwork every 20 min. to check the sleeping children. Pat's frock VERY festive, big white dollar dots on red silk, pretty satin-bowed slippers to match. The George Footes from the same vicinity coming in w/Oaklanders Bob & Dorothy Magliano who were their dinner guests later.

Make-believe fruit of marzipan in twin tall glass candy jars, adding a unique touch to the candlelit canape table . . . The hostess Charmian, charmant in decollete black & white cocktail dress . . . Everybody wishing Aloha to Marian & "Bob" Leighton, over from Lafayette, practicing their "Mele Kalekimakas" for a Tuesday flight to the Islands.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT, something special . . . Like the R. T. Hoyer's outdoor decorations lighting up the Big Bend on El Toyonal . . . Santa & his sleigh skimming down the side of the house. And up on the garage door, flickering colored lights to frame a trio of Wise Men resplendent & radiant in pastel & gold colors. The clever work of a clever family.

While We Tell of Yuletide Treasure

Out Glorietta & Rheem Blvd. you can really see the Santas! On housetops, in chimneys, at doorways, on lawns, never saw so many in a neighborhood EVER. More clever people. And of course there was the Contest!

AROUND TOWN, a rash of red in clothing & a Christmasy touch to everyone, if only that of a shopping list in hand, a box of cards to be filed in the Post Office foyer. And THAT Post Office Staff! Weren't they something? Ever-pleasant, ever-smiling! And you wondered how they really must feel. (Oh, those tired tootsies. Those aching backs!)

Eyecatchers . . . A handsome handknit sweater sailing past the Hardware Store. Of Heavy White Wool & fairly blooming w/the most spectacular red & green Poinsettias. (And spkg. of that Christmas Flower, did you see the PINK ones in the Claremont Lobby. Gorgeous!)

ANOTHER HANDSOME handknit, (the cold weather will bring 'em out NOW!) this one on tall Shirley Ketsdever rating compliments from everyone in line at the P.O. . . . Hers, black & white w/tyrolean people & heavy-antlered reindeer knitted into panels of black & white.

In the dimestore . . . Fran Yedidia in long red woolens, and we DO mean those knee-length SOX, and a saucy red tie to trim her grey sweater, her grey spirits, SHE TOO w/the FLU, like so many of YOU. Me Too! Ditto Marian Long & Agnes Webster mentioning the Flu downing their families, Boo Hoo, and we hope EVERYBODY was Up & Able and at the Table yesterday!

THE SPIRIT Of Christmas in the Song Fests which took place at each school. The scrubbed & shiny young faces, the mouths forming the notes & the words while the eyes searched to & fro, front to back row, lighting up at the sighting of Moms & Dads in the audience . . . The busiest ones who both sang as well as played in the orchestra, militantly marching back & forth, on stage & then down again!

Mr. Luoma's LOVE of Music obvious in his gestures & gyrations, his sensitivity to, especially, the "Five Gold Rings" in the Partridge In The Pear Trees. HOLD That Note!

WE LIKED hearing from Old Lady We Know that she & her husband leave all Christmas Cards unoped until Christmas Eve and then the two of 'em traditionally sit down relaxed and enjoy reading the messages together. This takes care of any of that "They sent us one, we'd better mail them one" kind of thing that is so prevalent, don'tcha think?

Fast Away the Old Year Passes

A right good crew collected at the La Espiral Home of the Ernest Spiegls Sunday for their Open House and a couple of dozen of them lingered on for buffet dinner.

ROBERTA was delighted. Frank & Georgia Walker will entertain again tomorrow evening w/their traditional neighborhood wassailing, this their Second Big Party, the first one being the seasonal Splash they hosted on the 18th! Bob & June Beconcini among early party-givers.

THE TESTIMONY and questions of these men lead a nine-man jury to the verdict that William "Roy" Anderson was "shot to death by persons or persons unknown." Anderson Inquest Finds Legal Cause of Death

By BOB RAPIDA

A jury of nine men determined Friday that William Roy Anderson was shot to death by person or persons unknown.

The coroner's jury, following a two-hour session at the Little Chapel in the Valley in Lafayette, returned the verdict in 10 minutes.

Jurors heard testimony by William Bogart, M.D., pathologist; Dr. Paul Slattery, next door neighbor; David Levy, deputy district attorney; Norman Wilson, sheriff's inspector, and Mrs. Maymie Anderson.

DR. BOGART testified that a missile had passed through Anderson's chest, smashed one rib, bounced off another and exited through his back.

The slug which killed Anderson was found the day before the inquest in a vacuum cleaner in the victim's home. The slug has been sent to Sacramento for examination, Wilson stated.

Following the 5-minute testimony of Dr. Bogart, which was technical and highlighted by the showing of color photographs of the death wound, Dr. Slattery testified for 10 minutes.

Dr. Slattery related the circumstances of November 25, the murder night.

Dr. Slattery said he received a call at 8:30 p.m. from Mrs. Anderson, and that he recognized her voice.

MRS. ANDERSON, according to Slattery, said, "Paul, come over right away! Roy's been shot"

Slattery noted that he had been taking a shower, and that it took him 6 to 8 minutes to respond to the call.

When he arrived at the front door, he continued, he tried to open it but could not and Mrs. Anderson shouted that he should come around to the dining room door.

When he found the body it had a robe wrapped around it, and was arched against the door, making it impossible to open.

After a brief check, Slattery said, he determined that Anderson was dead and also was sure that he had been shot to death; then left the body without further investigation.

ASKED BY Levy if he were aware of the Andersons' habits, Slatterv replied that he was not. He added that his home, at 5 Las Aromas Drive, cannot be seen from the Anderson dwelling at 1 Las Aromas Drive.

Wilson stated that he arrived at the murder scene shortly after 9 p.m.

He testified that the act was perpetrated by a person of average height and that it was impossible to determine whether the gunman had been right or left handed.

Wilson continued that not one person involved in the case had been eliminated as a possible suspect.

Wilson added that the sheriff's office had no concrete evidence against anyone, either.

Larry Blakesley, one of the jurors, asked if the slug which passed through the screen door was the same bullet which felled Anderson.

WILSON ANSWERED that the slug was in poor condition after hitting two ribs, but it was safe to assume that the slug was the same one.

The deputy added that it still had firing marks on it and was being checked to determine, if possible, what kind of gun fired it.

Wilson was asked whether Anderson had been in fear of his life.

He replied that Anderson had written some messages to his wife, but he did not know when they were written. Wilson explained that the messages, relating to attorneys and personal files, were signed by Anderson, but not dated.

Mrs. Anderson, dressed in a gray suit, fur neck piece and a white straw hat with black felt trim, took the stand following Wilson.

In a tremulous voice, fingering a handkerchief, she answered questions and related the horrors of the murder night.

AS HER VOICE cracked and became lower, she told how she and her husband had retired to separate bedrooms at about 8 p.m. She commented that this was a normal time for them to retire.

She stated that she had turned off her light after reading when the doorbell chimed twice. She stated that her husband passed by her door clad in his pajamas.

He answered the door and she quoted the conversation. He said: "Yes, what do you want (pause) "What do YOU want?" (pause) Mrs. Anderson stated that she felt her husband had been at the door too long and had said to him, "Close the door."

Again, she heard her husband speak, but did not hear any other voices at the door, she testified.

Anderson then said, according to his widow, "There are other Andersons in the neighborhood."

Bread Company Screening Plan Told by Official

The Peter Wheat Bread Company screens every applicant before he is hired, according to Wade Glasburn, general manager of the firm with offices in Hayward.

Glasburn made the statements following an inquiry from The Sun on personnel procedures of the company.

DURING THE last two years in Contra Costa County, three Peter Wheat drivers have been charged with various crimes, according to sheriff's reports.

One was found guilty of vagrancy; another of child molestation and a third of burglary.

In the Sun Valley area, after two rapes had been committed, a Peter Wheat driver was hauled in for questioning by the sheriff's office.

He was cleared of the rapes, but admitted to trying to date one of the women, a sheriff's report states.

"DURING THE past two years a very intensive screening program has been instituted by the Peter Wheat Bread Company, Glasburn stated.

"Of course, no personnel system is foolproof and there have been one or two slips, but this firm does not hire persons with known criminal records," he claimed.

Asked what instructions employees were given regarding the entry of homes, Glasburn stated they were forbidden to enter any home under any circumstances.

ASKED OF THE statement of the attorney of a Peter Wheat driver who pleaded guilty to charges of being a "peeping Tom," that the man was not in jeopardy of losing his job, Glasburn answered:

"That man has been terminated."

The man had a criminal record including sodomy, purse snatching, burglary, vagrancy, and drunken driving spanning a period of over 20 years.

Rape and Burglary Charges Dismissed: It's Vagrancy!

Rape and burglary charges against a bread truck driver were dismissed in Martinez justice court Monday after the woman complaining was asked to change her complaint by the district attorney's office.

Leslie Todd, 36 year old employee of the Peter Wheat Company, who admitted to sheriff's detectives of entering the home of the attractive, 29-year-old mother of two children and attacking her, pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of vagrancy before Judge Sam Hall.

TODD WILL BE sentenced on the "peeping Tom" charge January 21 in the Martinez chambers of the judge following a probation department report.

Maximum fine and imprisonment under the vagrancy charge is six months in the county jail and/or $500 fine.

The woman amended her rape charge after she was informed by the district attorney's office, the judge and the attorney of the defendant, John F. Tully, that the charge of rape would be nearly impossible to prove in court.

BAIL, WHICH had been originally set at $10,000 on the burglary and rape charge, was reduced to $2000 by the district attorney's office.

Although the rape and burglary charges were dismissed, Judge Hall set $100 bail on Todd.

Tully asked that Todd be released to his own recognizance and the judge agreed after noting that Todd was a local resident and was employed.

The judge decided to drop the bail since the defendant was likely to show up for the January 21 sentencing.

ALTHOUGH TULLY informed Judge Hall that Todd was employed by the bread firm and that his position was not jeopardized by the court action and confession, Wade Glassburn, general manager of Peter Wheat Bread, stated that Todd's employment had been terminated because of his actions.

The original complaint, signed by the woman, was for first degree burglary (illegal entry with intent to commit a felony) and rape.

The woman, who lived alone in a subdivision with her two children, 7 and 8 years of age, stated she changed her mind because of what she and her family would have to go through to press the case.

THE WOMAN first went to authorities after relating what had happened to her to friends.

Friends convinced the woman that she should go to the Contra Costa District Attorney and sign a complaint against Todd.

She told sheriff's deputies and Deputy District Attorney George McClure that she had been sleeping in her home when, at 4 a.m. she awakened to find Todd half clad on top of her.

HE WAS attempting to rape her, she said, and made lewd advances toward her.

McClure explained that the rape charge would have been very difficult to prove to a jury because there was no physical evidence and it is a matter of "her word against Todd's."

McClure noted that there were no torn garments, no bruises, there was no screaming or commotion, nor medical factors which could substantiate whether she had been raped.

JUDGE HALL agreed with the statements of the deputy district attorney.

McClure, in discussing a polygraph (lie detector) examination given to Todd, commented that the two-day delay in the reporting of the alleged crime was a complicating factor for the prosecutors.

The woman gave her statement to Detective Louis Skuce of the Contra Costa Sheriff's Central County Sub-station in Lafayette.

Skuce stated that the detailed report indicaed that the actions of the attacker constituted rape and first degree burglary.

SKUCE AND the woman went to the district attorney's office and were interrogated by McClure.

The woman told The Sun:

"I was told if I went ahead and signed a complaint I would be in for plenty of trouble and I could never prove that I had been attacked when I went to court."

"I THOUGHT that the district attorney was there to protect my rights and to protect my home. After all, I went to the sheriff's office, the man was arrested and now I was made to feel as though I were the guilty one for even reporting that I had been attacked," she stated.

The woman gave The Sun permission to use her name if it would help her in her effort to have justice done.

(The Sun, as a matter of policy, does not use the name of women who have been attacked or molested.)

"I CHANGED my mind and approved the reduction requested of me, because I was badgered into it," she exclaimed.

"I was not even told that I had to appear in court Monday. If I had not gone, Judge Hall told me, the case would have been dismissed," she said.

Judge Hall, when asked by a Sun reporter, stated that the case would have been entirely dismissed had not the complaining witness appeared.

The woman said that she went to court in Martinez because she felt that she should be there if the man made any statements.

ALTHOUGH THE hearing was scheduled for 2 p.m., McClure spoke to the woman for nearly an hour previous trying to change her mind from the rape and burglary charge to the lesser offense, she noted.

Judge Hall also spoke with the woman for some time giving her particulars as to the problems of intent and proof in court, she commented.

Following the discussion between the woman and McClure, the deputy district attorney spoke with Tully, Todd's attorney.

TULLY READILY accepted, when asked by the judge if he would permit the reduction in charges to a misdemeanor.

"I waited two full days before I told a soul of what had happened to me," she said. I was so ashamed and afraid of the man not only for myself, but also for my children.

"Then I made the decision to go to the authorities so that this man would not make the same advances toward other women as he did to me," she continued.

TODD, DURING the 20 minute hearing, sat expressionless. He said nothing, stolidly wearing his Peter Wheat Company uniform.

Todd made one request of the judge during his appearance in court: that his sentencing be held on a Wednesday, since that was his day off from work.

The court set the sentencing for a Wednesday.

THE WOMAN said to two friends as they left the justice court. "I wonder why they call it that?"

To be now taken under consideration by the probation department before sentencing will be Todd's past record including sodomy, purse snatching, burglary, previous charges of vagrancy and drunk driving.

Sheriff's Office Gets 4 Prowler Calls This Month

Four prowler complaints have been made to the Contra Costa Sheriff's Central County Substation during the month of December.

Two of the complaints originated from the Pleasant Hill area, while two others were reported from the unincorporated district near Walnut Creek.

There were no complaints from the Lafayette or Orinda areas, according to sheriff's reports.

Within the city limits of Walnut Creek there were three, according to police records.

"The Sun will report all prowler complaints in the area and give the location in which prowlers have been seen," stated Herman Silverman, editor and publisher of The Sun.

"The policy of reporting the prowler complaints has been adopted by The Sun to alert residents to the necessity of locking doors and windows in areas where prowlers have been observed and reported," Silverman added.

"It is of utmost importance that the sheriff's or police offices be notified immediately when prowlers are observed," stated Silverman.

Santa Doesn't Need a Boat This Christmas

Weather fanciers yesterday cocked eyes at the sky and predicted that Santa was somehow going to have to make it again without any snow for his sleigh.

The same experts, however, agreed that he won't have to use a motorboat, as he did a year ago, when rainfall to date for the season was 11.41 inches.

For the similar period this vear it is .68 of an inch.

Sheriff's Office Investigating Rape of Teenager

A 15-year-old girl was raped Monday night on San Pablo Dam Road by a youth wearing a white shirt and suit pants who was driving a solid color Oldsmobile, according to a sheriff's report.

The girl was raped after she was pushed down, threatened with a hatchet and slapped, Deputy Sheriffs Robert Barrett and Robert Franks noted.

The crime was reported to sheriff's deputies by Norman Kelsdrer, 68 Ardilla Road, Orinda.

In a second rape report on the sheriff's log, a 23-year-old San Francisco secretary was reportedly beaten and raped in the Orinda hills by a 17-year-old marine.

Man Stabs Wife During 3 a.m. Melee

Robert Jackson of Orinda was arrested Tuesday, after he had entered his estranged wife's home at 15 Crescent Drive, Orinda, and had grappled with her, holding a boning knife. Mrs. Jackson was cut in the hand, and an interceding neighbor received a cut in the side.

Sheriff's Inspector Norman Wilson said that Jackson entered the home at about 3 a.m., armed with the knife, and started to struggle with Mrs. Jackson.

Mrs. Patricia Fletcher, who was staying with Mrs. Jackson, called a neighbor to the scene. Charles Schoner of 45 Claremont Drive, tried to calm Jackson, and was stabbed.

Jackson was booked at the county jail for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon, but it was indicated that the charge might be reduced to disturbing the peace.

Starving Ducks Get New Home

Nine white Muscovy ducks were saved from starvation on nearly bone-dry Lake Cascade, Orinda, this week by a team of SPCA officers, Orinda firemen and a state humane society officer.

Last Friday, the rescuers arrived at the lake with hip boots, nets and a boat, they cornered the ducks, and drove them into a culvert, boxed them and transported them to an SPCA shelter in Oakland.

ELBERT A. DAWSON JR. was recently installed as master of Orinda Lodge 704 of the Masons.

Paintings are In NY Gallery

Fifty-two paintings of Sylvia Fein of Pleasant Hill are on exhibition at the Sagittarius Gallery, New York City.

They will be on display until January 4, it was announced.

The artist's home is at 341 Strand Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

Safeway Selects Orinda For $500,000 Market

Safeway Stores will make its initial entry into the Orinda shopping area with the erection of a large modern store, according to an announcement made today by H. H. Baker, property manager of the company's San Francisco Retal Operations Division.

In confirming rumors circulated in the area for several weeks, Baker disclosed that Safeway has consummated a lease with Mr. and Mrs. John F. Snow involving their property, located at the southeast corner of Camino Sobrante and Orinda Highway.

The site is immediately adjacent to the Orinda Bypass.

COINCIDENT WITH the announcement by the Safeway official, Snow revealed that he will build the Safeway store, and other structures for lease to small shops to round out shopping services in the area.

Snow said the development will cost in excess of $500,000.

Having operated a number of markets in the general East Bay area for many years, the question of Safeway's delay in entering the Orinda area has been frequently directed to company officials.

Baker indicated that his department had conducted frequent surveys in the area before concluding the present lease, which anticipates building of a major unit in the company's current new construction program.

PLANS CALL FOR a 16,000-square-foot building and a paved parking area for approximately 150 cars.

As presently planned, construction will begin early in the next year and will be one of 20 new stores which Safeway will build in Northern California during 1959.

"During the last few years, members of my staff have been seeking a suitable site in Orinda, and we have made numerous studies on tentatively considered plots," Mr. Baker sai.

"It has been our purpose to select a location which would be both central and most convenient to not only the greater number of Orinda residents, but the surrounding populated area as well.

"WE THINK Mr. Snow's property has practically all of the assets we have been seeking, and we are confident that this store will fulfill the desires of those residents who have frequently sought to interest us in the area."

Milk Men Find Too Much Blaze Spoils the Steaks

By BILL HINES

Fire that started in a chimney flue at 9 p.m. last Wednesday at Orinda Country Club threw a milk dealers dinner into a flurry of confusion and disarrayed the men's bar.

The steaks had just been served members of the Alameda County Milk Dealers Association when the fire broke out in the kitchen.

"The overhead sprinkling system went into action right away," said Clark Mathews, club manager. "That CO2 hit the steaks as well as the milk dealers.

"THE MILK DEALERS wiped themselves off with their napkins and seemed to be okay.

"But the steaks were ruined."

Chef Bruno Caioli brought more steaks from the larder, but the carbonic gas had put the stove out of whack.

Mathews solved the problem by moving the milk dealers out on the lawn, where steaks were broiled on a portable barbecue 'neath the silvery moon.

MEANWHILE, the Orinda Fire Department had quickly extinguished the fire.

Biggest damage, for which no dollar figure was available, was done by water which flooded down from the kitchen above into the men's bar, soaking the carpet.

It was removed, leaving the floor bare. New carpet will be installed, Mathews said, next month when the club will be losed.

PH Man's Car Damaged in Hit-and-Run

A collision which involved the car of Alyne C. Lytle, 53, of 1853 Sunnyvale Avenue, Pleasant Hill, resulted in two fines levied against the other driver in Concord Municipal Court.

The other driver, Mrs. Mary White, 34, of 3267 Claudia Drive, Concord, was fined $50 and costs for hit and run driving, and $20 and costs for failing to yield the right of way. She pleaded guilty on both counts.

She told officers she had a crying baby in the car, and had told Lytle to turn his report in to the police, as she had to hurry home. He obtained the identification from her license plates.

Local Man of Year Will Be Announced Next Week

Who's the Orinda Man of the Year?

The answer to the question will appear in the next issue of The Sun.

A great many possible choices are being considered by a committee haded by Dr. Ralph Hall. Serving with him are Mrs. Stanley Allen and Arthur Flint.

Several suggestions as to whom should be chosen have been received by The Sun and forwarded to the committee.

It may, of course, pick one of the names suggested, or someone else.

No rules and regulations bind the committee—both men and women are eligible, and the person selected may be one not especially active during the past year, but have contributed to the community over a period of years.

Waterfowl Are Abundant Now

Most waterfowl now in California are resting on refuges and other choice wintering areas of the great central valleys within range of a great many hunters, the Department of Fish and Game reported today.

Some two million ducks were tabulated in the Butte Sink and another 1.6 million on the Sacramento Refuge by the department and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service personnel November 26.

Mental Health Group Collecting Christmas Gifts

Many local groups such as Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, church and service clubs are helping the member-volunteers of the County Mental Health Association with its annual Christmas project for persons hospitalized because of mental illness and handicaps.

Mrs. Thomas Hodgson, volunteer chairman of the United Crusade Agency, announced that interested groups and individuals can help by donating cookies for the Christmas parties or personal gifts or money.

She commented that at the present time there are over 36,000 patients in the state hospitals for the mentally ill and 9000 in the state hospitals for the mentally retarded.

LAST YEAR, admissions from Contra Costa County were 486 mentally ill and 13 mentally retarded.

The state provides basic food and clothing, but personal items and a friendly hand from the community are needed to help those patients who can to get well and to brighten the lives of those for whom there is little pleasure in the drabness and boredom of institutional life.

Mrs. Hodgson said that there is an endless need for cookies or small cakes and homemade candy for the parties.

The local association is also providing small personal presents for patients who have no friends or relatives who are looking after them.

THOSE WISHING to donate personal presents should select from the items below, wrap in Christmas paper, label on the outside whether for a man or woman, and item inside.

Variety of Articles Go Fast in Sun

Have you ever hesitated to place a classified ad in The Sun because you have such a weird variety of articles they don't seem to go together in one ad?

Then don't worry about it—any combination of articles always go like hot cakes in The Sun—due to the large numbers of Sun readers and the variety of their interests.

Mrs. W. A. Hardway of 273 Hyde Court, Concord listed the following in a single Sun ad:

Wool frieze rugs, child's wardrobe, Thayer buggy, drop leaf kitchen table, hall runners, car seat, grocery cart, steering wheel, potty chair, and electric heater.

Mrs. Hardway said she received 45 calls, and sold just about everything!

You can do the same by calling The Sun at YE 4-5000 or AT 4-4444.

Fourteen or less words go into The Sun for $1.60. That means it will appear in The Sun Shopping News which reaches 38,000 homes each week, and also in the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun.

St. Mary's Student Gives Society Over 300 Pix

What may well be the most complete photographic record of an historical San Francisco residential area has been presented to the California Society of Pioneers by a Saint Mary's College student.

Approximately 300 pictures and negatives, taken as a senior history project by Robert Grazzini of San Leandro, was turned over to the Pioneers.

Famed in San Francisco lore as the old Western Addition, the area bounded by Post, Eddy, Divisadero and Franklin, was photographed as a record of what was one of the most exclusive areas of San Francisco.

Grazzini, a history major, developed the project under the supervision of Brother W. Matthew, FSC, history professor.

Plan On Going The Formal Way

The approaching holiday season heralds the advent of festive evenings, the most important of which is the traditional New Year's Eve celebration.

What is it that sets apart the important occasion, the really big night, the wing-ding that lives on in memory? The quick and obvious answer could well be, "The time, the place and the girl"

National, State Chiefs To Run Realtors' Event

The new officers of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board will be installed January 6 at the Concord Elks Club.

The installation will be a joint session for realtors of the Contra Costa, East Contra Costa, Concord and Martinez boards.

Honored guest will be James M. Udall of Los Angeles, who was recently elected the 1959 president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and James B. Clayton Jr., the 1959 president of the California Real Estate Association.

They will conduct the ceremonies.

Bill Hayward of Walnut Creek, president; Ramsay Underwood of Orinda, vice president; Lewis Reark of Orinda, secretary-treasurer.

Broker directors for two years are E. C. Scofield, Jack Steger, Jack Wolverton, and for one year, Barney Gilbert.

Salesmen directors are Marvin Ross, two years, and Bea Gibbs, one year.

Other directors include William Anderson and Leo Smarsh, who are serving their second years of two year terms, and Al Ingalls, a director by virtue of being immediate past president.

'Dimes' Leaders Appointed; Drive To Start Soon

Appointment of area and local March of Dimes chairmen in 20 Contra Costa communities was announced today by J. Nolan Stockton, County Chairman for the 1959 fund-raising drive.

The drive will open January 2 and run through February 3.

Stockton praised the work already done by March of Dimes volunteers.

He stated, "Eighteen new polio victims have been reported this year in Contra Costa County. These are in addition to our backlog of many rehabilitative surgery cases and others who have been under March of Dimes care for years forcing us to help on National Headquarters for financial assistance in paying our bills.

"This situation must be rectified. Once our citizens fully recognize March of Dimes needs, I know they will respond and make their county chapter self-sustaining."

In addition to continuing the polio program, the 1959 March of Dimes will wage war on arthritis and birth defects, with the national set at $65,000,000.

In the eastern area Joseph DeRosa, Postmaster of Concord, is in charge.

Christ-Less World Void

Adapted by the Rev. Carl Thomas
Pastor, Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church

The story is told of a minister who had a dream. He fell into a short sleep in his study on Christmas Eve and dreamed of a world in which Jesus had not come.

In his dream, he found himself looking through his home, but there were no little stockings hanging from the fireplace, no Christmas bells, or wreaths of holly, and no Christ to comfort, gladden or redeem. He walked out on the public street, but there was no church with its spire pointing to Heaven.

He came back and sat down in his library, but every book about the Savior had disappeared.

A ring at the door-bell brought a little girl, who asked him to visit her poor dying mother.

He hastened with the weeping child, and as he reached the home he sat down and said, "I have something here that will comfort you."

He opened his Bible to look for a familiar promise, but it ended with Malachi, and there was no New Testament, with its promise of hope and salvation.

He realized at length that Christ had not come, and burst into tears and bitter weeping in his sorrowful dream. Suddenly he awoke with a start, and a great shout of joy and praise burst from his lips as he heard his choir singing in his church close by,

"Joy to the world, the Lord is come,
Let Earth receive her King!"

A Light at Christmas Time

By Reverend Corwin C. Roach
Locum Tenens, St. Paul's Episcopal Church

Some years ago I spent Christmas in the land of Jesus' birth. Of all the services celebrating His nativity one stands out in my memory.

It was a simple carol service in German held in the Lutheran Church on the afternoon before. On either side of the altar were Christmas trees strung with lighted candles. As the shadows deepened and the dusk came on their flickering pinpoints shown brighter, brighter, bidding defiance to the darkening gloom.

It was a symbol to me of the meaning of Christmas.

SO ST. JOHN writes "The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it." Our world today is filled with cruelty and violence. At home and abroad the powers of darkness seem on the march.

Yet this is the glad Christmas news. A baby was born in Bethlehem nineteen centuries ago. By that birth a light was kindled which has never gone out. Nor will it go out until the end of time. The darker the night, the brighter shines that light, like those tiny candles on the Christmas trees.

Therefore at Christmas we dare to rejoice and be glad. We sing the old carols, we decorate our homes and trim the Christmas trees, we exchange gifts with those whom we love.

Our hearts warm within us as we repeat the centuries old customs. Merriment and good fun are part of our observance because we are celebrating that most wonderful thing that has happened to this world of ours, the birth of a baby many years ago.

THERE IS something in that little baby which softens the heart of the most crusty and dour of men. The light that shone in the eyes of this child has kindled a radiance that nothing can extinguish.

This is the miracle of Christmas and it repeats itself each year in millions of homes the world around. The lights on the Christmas trees still twinkle with this message of hope and good cheer, even as those trees by the side of the altar in the city of Jerusalem.

The Sign of the Cradle . . .

By Reverend E. J. Erlandson
Pastor, St. Mark's Lutheran Church

And this will be a sign for you; you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling-cloths and lying in a manger." Luke 2:12.

The Cross is meaningful at the close of our Lord's life and mission—the sign of humiliation, suffering, and still, the sign of salvation and victory for all men.

The Cross has its counterpart in the very beginning of our Lord's unusual and unique life among men. The cradle stands as the sign that He is indeed the true and only Saviour.

In Bethlehem, in the city of David He was born, He who is king of kings and lord of lords. There the seeking shepherds seek Him. But where?

"AND THIS SHALL be a sign unto you; you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths, in a manger." Such was the angelic message. And this is the great and glad tidings for all times: Your Saviour has come as a little babe in a manger!

There He was found by the shepherds. He can be found by all who in any time seek Him with longing hearts and hungry souls. Around the cradle all Christians meet year after year to be reminded of the greatest event in human history; we too, led by the sign of the cradle, may go forth with spiritual eagerness to find our Saviour . . .

Ah, you may say, this is a story for children mostly, sweet romanticism, all this about the babe of the stable and cradle . . . But, for faith that is spirit-born in our hearts it is just here that we find the deepest revelation of divine wisdom. We are so easily swayed by that which is only outward, the veneers of this life, the glitters.

FOR THAT VERY reason, it seems, it was necessary for our Saviour to come in lowly degree, that we might be drawn to Him, for His own sake alone.

He came as meek and lowly that He might draw to Himself all that are needy and poor in spirit.

Political and economic powers—these cannot in any essential sense save the world—now, can they? Nor all the riches for which men strive so selfishly and greedily age after age. What mankind needs cannot be had through riches, learning or human skills.

For these reasons He came among us in humiliation, leaving aside the majesties of heaven that we might know that the gift He gives in reality is independent of time—bound unessentials of what men call great and important.

IT WAS NOT in kingly palaces that the shepherds were to seek Him. But in a stable, in a manger! How profoundly simple and unadorned is Divine mercy! Could these humble shepherds have found admittance to the palaces of their day? It may be truly doubted. Many in our day find plenty of places to which admission is denied them.

But to the Babe of the cradle we may come, and none can say us nay! There at the humble manger God shows us the deep mystery of His divine and saving love revealed in Jesus who was given that name for "tis He who shall save His people from their sin."

God's Son Gift To Us

By the Rev. William C. Mays
Pastor, Lafayette Covenant Church

Christianity is essentially the story of a Person. If Bethlehem's cradle contained simply the illegitimate son of a Jewish maiden, we may as well skim hurriedly over the historical accounts of Jesus' life given by Josephus and the Roman historians, and quickly return to the feverish activities of the Christmas season.

The true-life story of Jesus Christ can best be gotten from four men who knew Him best, having lived with Him for 3½ years. These biographers heard His words, felt His influence and the impact of His personality, followed Him through sunshine and shadow, and finally attested to the truth of their testimony about Him until their lips were sealed by martyrdom.

MATTHEW REMINDS us of a prophecy made by Isaiah, that "a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and His name shall be called Emmanuel" (which means, "God with us").

The supernatural birth is a prelude to Doctor Luke's account of His natural boyhood, in which "Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man," and was obedient to His parents.

Mark, writing under the influence of Peter's discourses and sermons, and appealing especially to the power-loving Romans, presents Jesus as the Almighty King, and much of his writing shows Jesus' power through His miracles.

THE STRESS of John's Gospel is upon Jesus as Savior and records many intimate conversations various people had with Jesus. But a mere knowledge of all these facts may still leave one cold, and without personal conception of the true meaning of Christmas.

Just why were these accounts written? What practical purpose is served in the telling and re-telling of the story of Jesus?

The Apostle John sums it up thus: "But there are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in His name."

ALTHOUGH MORTAL mind may never be able to grasp the deepest mysteries of the Incarnation, that mind can embrace the known facts, and the individual can receive by personal faith the Christ who came from God, at Bethlehem.

To us in the human family it will ever remain a matter of astonishment that God would come down to earth in the person of His son to inhabit a human body, to bear our griefs and carry our sorrows, and to suffer and die for our sins on a cross, to save our souls from death.

All this we may not fully understand, and yet thankfully accept it as the greatest gift of love ever exchanged from one heart to another.

Personal acceptance of this gift, God's Son, will reveal to each recipient as nothing else can do, The True Meaning of Christmas.

Our Girl Busy-Busy-Busy With Cards and Cookies

By MARIE MONAHAN

FRIENDS ARE still getting our Christmas Cards. In fact, they'll be getting them for the next few weeks.

We are still writing them.

WE DON'T bother to buy New Year's cards. We're using a batch we bought last year. Christmas Cards. We hid them & just found them.

That was the year we never DID find our card list.

SO WHEN we didn't find our card list, there was no sense getting upset or excited. We simply skipped those whose addresses we couldn't remember.

We didn't send many. It was a valid excuse. But we missed doing it.

TOO MANY things to remember This Time Of Year.

LIKE—Where The Dickens did we hide those roller skates bought last July? And the basketball & hoop. Seems, too, a pup tent was stashed away someplace. It was on sale in the Surplus Store and we scooted home to hide it from the You Know Whos.

AND NOW we don't even remember where we hid it.

Things like that just can't vanish in thin air, can they?

NOT LIKE Christmas card lists. And boxes of cards bought in in January for the Next Time Around.

It is absolutely maddening to misplace things. You don't really care about the stuff TOO much. It's simply that it suddenly amounts to a challenge to find them.

NO MATTER what the cost.

That is the reason our house was so mixed-up looking this week. Before Christmas. There it was, in holiday array—clean & tidy & Very Much A Treat.

AND THEN a Typhoon struck! The whole place turned topsy-turvy. Drawers & Closets, cuboards & cubbyholes. Literally torn apart. And then we just stuffed everything back in again. Being sure to shut the door in a hurry. Or the drawers which won't open now!

But we found it. Finally! The Card List. Right in the place we remembered it was. We knew it was there all the time. It didn't show up the first time we shoved everything around in the drawer. But when we looked again, slightly fevered this time, well, there it was. Right in plain sight.

AND GUESS what was right under it? Our Christmas Cookie file. Full of the most wonderful recipes. Gosh, how we've missed THAT for years!

So now, this being Monday before Christmas, we are killing two birds with one stone. Real Systematic are we.

WE ARE writing our Christmas cards. While the cookies are browning away.

OH HAPPY DAY!

Inside Out . . .

There Are Words to Live By -- And to Die By . . .

By JOYCE BARNUM

There are words to live by and there are words to die by.

"THERE CAN BE no such thing as an average human being . . . there can be no middle ground with half below and half above, for humanity has an innumerable number of characteristics in an infinite number of combinations . . . There will always be a few hardy souls who refuse to give up easily in their quest for truth, and thought they may not flourish, intellectuals will continnue to exist . . . There exist many who have had the strength and maturity to emerge . . . into the world of thought and question. And even though they may be hard to find at first, they are there, and any man who has the courage to face the world and declare, 'I am an individual,' will not stand alone."

The extraordinary young man who wrote these words lived by them for the short span of his life. His name was Steven Mark Lewis. He died on January 2, 1958, days short of his sixteenth birthday.

At about 9 p.m. on December 31, 1957, as Steve rode with a friend along a familiar, often traveled road, the friend's car blew a tire. Characteristically, Steve got out of the car to help change the tire. As he stood behind his friend's car, by the side of the road, he was struck by a pick-up truck, crushed and pinned between the two vehicles.

STEVE WASN'T killed instantly. He lived through surgery; through hours of suffering.

The law makes no provisions to mitigate the loss suffered by by those who loved Steve . . . and there are many of these.

Steve was a senior in high school when he died. He lived his brief span with great abundance, accomplishment and creativity.

He was named editor of his high school newspaper during the last year of his life. He wrote the editorials for the paper for those last four months. In these he displayed an ability to think with rare maturity and to express his thoughts with clarity, expressing his philosophy to those who read his words.

STEVE WAS A MEMBER of the student council at his high school and contributed greatly to the calibre of leadership offered

Reduction of Charges . . . An Unhappy Yule Story!

This is not a very happy Christmas story.

This is the time of year when all of us would prefer to think in terms of Sweetness and Light—but this, unfortunately, is not the way of the world.

But we have to face the fact that we are all adults, or at least that we are faced with adult responsibilities.

Unfortunately, there are those in official positions who are evidently not aware of their official responsibilities. If they are aware of them, then they simply aren't performing their duty—the duty that we, as taxpayers, have a right to expect.

FOR THE FACTS in the case we are discussing, see the front section of this issue of The Sun. According to the testimony of a woman, a case of rape occurred. The man in the case has been charged with vagrancy. There is a good deal of difference between the two charges.

How did this happen? What are the actual facts? It would be nice to say that there just simply wasn't enough evidence, or that this was a case where it would be better to apprehend the criminal involved on any charge, just so you could hold him, but this really isn't so.

Unfortunately, this is an old story—one that we have seen repeated in this county too many times.

IT IS THE STORY of reduction of charges.

Why are the charges in a criminal case reduced? There can be many reasons, and again, unfortunately, too many of them are applicable to our present prosecution department — the district attorney's office.

Charges may be reduced because it is easier to get a conviction on lesser charge . . . this makes the district attorney's record look good.

This may very well apply to the case in point.

Charges may be reduced because the district attorney and/or his assistants are too busy with their own private practice to take the time and trouble to prosecute a county criminal case.

This, too, may very well apply to the case in point.

Let's consider what actually happened. A woman came to the sheriff's office and explained that she had been raped. Actually, a friend of hers contacted the sheriff because she was ashamed to do so.

THE SHERIFF'S office investigated the matter. They were willing to charge the man involved with rape, and the woman actually SIGNED A COMPLAINT to this effect.

Then what happens. The district attorney's office, whose job it is to prosecute cases of this kind, enters the picture.

Deputy District Attorney George McClure spent hours trying to talk the woman out of continuing with the prosecution. He told her the embarrassment she would face . . . he stated that she really didn't have a case . . . he confused her to the point that she didn't know what to do, and she was already embarrassed and upset.

The man appears in court, the original complaint is dismissed, and he is charged —not with a felony, such as attempted rape, rape, burglary, or any similar charge—but with a misdemeanor, vagrancy!

HIS ORIGINAL BAIL, on the rape charge, was $10,000. This was reduced to $2000 and then to $100 on the misdemeanor charge. At the comment of the deputy district attorney—again George McClure, the bail was waived and the man was left free on his own recognizance—and he is free now.

The woman involved is bitter, and who can blame her!

If her original charge had been pressed, at least it would have gone to court. Even if found not guilty by a jury, the man would have gone through the testimony of a court trial—his actions and statements would have been brought to public light. This would have constituted some kind of punishment in itself.

Now, he can laugh at the whole process. At the most he faces $500 fine and six months in prison, and this seems highly unlikely.

It is not this one individual case that is so upsetting—it is the pattern that it demonstrates. This is just one in a long series of cases where charges have been reduced or dropped.

WE HAVE SEEN IT in child molestion cases—in drunk driving cases.

There have been, over the past year, at least three outstanding examples of this, and they have happened in many of our communities, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill and areas between.

This particular case happened on the north side of Pleasant Hill, but it could just as well have happened next door to you. And if it had, you might very well find yourself in the position of the woman involved. This is not pleasant to contemplate.

It is a pretty juicy mess, and it is time that something is done about it. We have a new district attorney coming in, and it will be up to him to see that this doesn't continue.

SOMETIMES WE FEEL sorry for the poor deputy district attorneys who are faced with the problems of prosecuting these cases. Sometimes it is their fault, sometimes the fault of the present district attorney, Francis Collins.

But the deputies can't hide behind Collins' skirts without taking some of the blame themselves. McClure, in this case, certainly was a major contributing factor, and this kind of action is not to be condoned.

There is little that can be done now about the case in point — but there is much that can be done about similar cases in the future.

And it seems that we have had about enough of this.

Mary Xmas, Pearl Button

By BILL HINES

This is the time of year when, despite the effort all us older folk make to live in the present and future, our thoughts go winging homeward.

I think particularly of my home town and of my father and mother and sister.

My father, a really great guy, thought himself — as many others did — a very funny man indeed.

FOR 37 years he kept telling the same old jokes to my mother. She always laughed. Indeed, as time went on, it seemed to me that she laughed louder and longer. Maybe that's why theirs was the most successful marriage I've seen.

My father was the sort of man who puts on ladies' hats at Methodist picnics.

He was an anything-for-a-laugh guy. Personally, I didn't think he was too doggone funny, and I didn't always laugh at his jokes, particularly if it was one that I'd heard for the umpteenth time.

Maybe that's why he sometimes called me "Bilious Bill from Vinegar Hill."

TODAY, IF my father were alive, I'd certainly laugh at his jokes. They were pretty good jokes—they'd stood the test of time. But I think there was some excuse for my not always laughing at him in my salad days.

Here are a few examples of his favorite jests:

"Well, here we are, same old friends, knives to grind and money to lend."

When someone made an unexpected remark: "Well, Well, Well! Another county heard from!"

"She was pure as snow, but she drifted."

"No matter how healthy a bow-legged girl may be, she's always in bad shape."

"He who tooteth not his own horn, the same shall not be tooteth."

WHEN I was very young, long before I started to school, he told me about Pearl Button and Mary Christmas.

Pearl Button, my father said, lived in the apartment house right across the street.

She was a very good friend of Mary Christmas, who lived in an apartment about a block away.

Pearl Button, Dad reported, was an operator for the telephone company. In later years, while talking with various anonymous phone operators, I've often wondered if I heard her voice.

Mary Christmas was a secretary in the flour mill on Front Street. She had red hair, was very vivacious, and was engaged to be married.

Many years later, after my father had died, I was at a Christmas party attended by my sister, and happened to tell the group about the girls with the remarkable names who had happened to live near us—Pearl Button and Mary Christmas.

"BILL," MY sister said, "you're fibbing again. You know very well that was just a joke of Daddy's."

Her statement was a real shock to me, one from which I have never really quite recovered. Pearl Button and Mary Christmas had become real to me. It was as if I had known them personally.

The psychological hurdle of finding out Who-Santa-Claus-Really-Was I took like a breeze when I was about six, although, chiefly for the benefit of my young sister, I went on pretending to believe in his literal existence for several years.

TODAY I CAN see obviously phony Santas at the Community Hut or on the streets without a tremor of disappointment or nostalgia.

But Pearl Button and Mary Christmas live on in my imagination, and I often wish my sister had never told me the Truth-As-She-Saw-It about them. It was not necessary for her to tell me. I'm sure it was simply thoughtlessness on her part, but it was a cruel kind of thoughtlessness, and it has been awfully hard for me to forgive her.

Especially at this time of year, I think long thoughts about my father and Pearl Button and Mary Christmas.

Despite my father's liking for humor, I still think there's a chance that Mary Christmas and Pearl Button really existed.

Happy Holidays to both of them, wherever they may be.

Miramonte Still Undefeated

Matadors Snare Bulldogs On Martinez Hardwoods

The Miramonte Matadors traveled to Martinez and while it was close the first half, it was the Matadors in the final two periods as they notched a 50-33 win to stay as the DVAL's only undefeated club.

It marked Miramonte with its sixth win in a row.

MIRAMONTE MADE it a 16-12 first quarter advantage and while Alhambra High of Martinez closed the gap to 25-23 at the mid point, it was pretty much a one-way road the second half as Miramonte roared away.

The Matadors were consistent in their play as they scored 25 points in each half while Alhambra, who tallied 23 on their own during the first half, fell off the pace in the second half, getting but four field goals ni the two cantos of play.

Bill Houston, Miramonte's terrific guard and play maker, was in top form as he stole the ball time and time again to set up plays.

Center John Coffee collected 10 points to pace the winners.

OTHER MIRAMONTE point getters were Bob Hudson, with nine; Houston, eight; Floyd Blaney, seven; Randy Young, six; Dixon Farmer, four; Rob Anthonisen, four, and Jack Gilbert with two.

Jerry Walter was Alhambra's best with his eight markers.

The Matadors took the Bee game 37-35 after trailing for three quarters with Bill Caldwell insuring the win with a nifty 20 point output for the afternoon's top effort.

Las Lomas Armor Pounded By Mustang Quint, 55-52

The Las Lomas Knights went down the hard way last Friday night as they lost in the closing seconds 55-52 when visiting Lincoln High dropped a field goal and a pair of free throws to register the win.

Las Lomas trailed 11-10 at the quarter, 24-22 at the half, and 39-43 at the end of the third canto only to come in fast in the final stanza when they took a 52-51 lead.

WITH 26 SECONDS left in the game, Lincoln's Bob Nelson took a long down-court pass and hit a layup.

Bob Feinberg fouled seconds later, insuring the San Francisco ball club the win as a Mustang forward hit a pair of charity tosses.

The loss was the first for Las Lomas in the season's play.

Mustang Dennis Mercurio with 16 points was the game's top scorer.

POINT GETTERS for Las Lomas were Tom Nichols, 12; Bob Gomez, 10; Dave Weil, eight; Clark Ransome, eight; Larry Drummond, five; Jim Sisler, three; Dick Dodge, two, and Bob Nye, two.

In the Bee game, Lincoln won 35-29 as their ace forward Bob McMonigal massaged the hoop for 23 markers.

Rams Find Richmond Tough Foe

The Pleasant Hill Rams found the Richmond five a pair of strong foes last Friday when the Oller Varsity dumped them, 66-36, and the Bees went down, 36-26.

In the varsity game, the Rams' ace forward, Bill Locatelli, hit for ten field goals and four free throws to top the scoring with 24 for game scoring honors.

But his teammates failed to keep pace.

Richmond took command early in the game, forging to a comfortable 26-11 first quarter lead, and widening the gap in the second quarter as they outscored the Pleasant Hill quintet, 16-4.

The local five did outscore Richmond 12-10 in the third frame only to fall back again in the finale, when they were outscored, 14-9.

In the final statistics, Ron Yamamoto, Dick Dole and Sid Maestri collected three points apiece for the Rams while Bill Atkinsen, Roger Leonard and Glen Odell got their lone point each from the free throw line.

Dons Top Clay Vee

The Acalanes Bees lost, 52-38, to Clayton Valley in the preliminary game last Friday, but the varsity, in its first home game, played its best and stopped the invaders cold with a rock-ribbed defense while rampaging on offense to chalk up a 51-34 win.

The Don varsity, paced by guard George McMeans, who tanked 11 points in the opening quarter, took a 19-6 lead in the first 8 minutes of play and went on to make it 32-16 at the half.

The Dons outscored the visitors, 14-7, in the third canto, and slacked off in the final when reserves took over, with Clayton outscoring Acalanes 11-5.

Point-getters for the Dons were George McMeans with 13, Mel Simpson 12, Bill Yonge 9, Paul Colin 8, Mike Kritscher 5, Dewaine Stults 2, Tom Strain 2.

Plush Country Clubs Plan Gala Holiday Festivities

plenty of surprises and plenty of entertainument at all three of Central Contra Costa's plush country clubs over the holidays.

Gala festivities have been planned at Diablo, Orinda and Meadowbrook, to insure a proper ringing in of the New Year as well as a dismissing of the old.

WITH MANY an Auld Lang Syne ringing throughout the holly-filled halls of the resplendently bedecked lounges, there is sure to be much merriment.

At Orinda there will be the annual New Year's Eve party with hats, horns, confetti and noise makers at all the tables which will be filled, of course, with members and guests.

Under the ceiling filled with balloons will be Henry Gallagher's Orchestra playing for an expected 600 dancers.

GENERAL CHAIRMEN Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dawson will plan the entire evening as a celebration for the New Year and the newly elected president and his board of directors.

Over at the Orinda Club, while the merriment is going full swing, will be the dancers to Gordon Heche and his orchestra.

With at least 250 persons expected at the Club to take part in the festivities there will be many cocktail parties beforehand.

AMONG THOSE planning get-togethers, at many a splendored fireplace to kiss off the old year, are the Ralph Ongs, the Harry Martins and the Peter Patches.

AIRLINE HOSTESS Carole Ann Yeager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Yeager of Walnut Creek, will be married to Warren C. Hegg Jr. of Dallas, Texas. Carole is a resident of Dallas, but the wedding will be held in the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

A two day holiday event—"Christmas Boutique," sponsored by the Diablo Junior Museum Alliance—featured Virginia Stanton, party editor for "House Beautiful."

Virginia, who lives in lovely Carmel Valley, spoke to a jam-packed house at the Alamo Women's Club and drew nothing but raves following her presentation. Some of her favorite recipes, printed on scrolls tied with red ribbons, were presented to each happy guest.

Following this feature and all of the next afternoon glamorous and exciting gifts, decorative items and goodies were offered for sale by the Alliance members. SUCH "ohs" and "ahs" over the two tea tables which were done in frosty white and silver—Mrs. John Floyd and her decorating committee should be justly proud.

A large and stunning green tree stood at the entrance—perky and colorful with its all red ornaments and bows. Greeting guests were the president, Mrs. Frank Young, and co-choirmen, the Mmes. A. D. and A. K. Lindsey.

The usual beavers show up . . .

Working like beavers, as usual, were the Mmes. Bob Clough, William Anderson, Mel Nielsen, Monroe Smith, Bobbie Williams, Phil Schiedemayer, Harmon Howard and Matt Connelly. (The last time I saw Elsa Connelly—that tiny source of atomic energy—she was busy serving up hundreds of hot dogs and pouring hot coffee for the chilled moms and dads who turned out for the BIG end-of-season football night at the W. C. "Rec.") A few of the guests who were spotted leaving the clubhouse laden with merchandise—lovely Mrs. R. W. Luhr, who heads the Easter Seal Drive, Alice Cashin, Fran Ostrom, Isabelle Scott and John Nejedly's adorable fiance, "Pat."

Mrs. Juanita Benoy, director of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, returned home just in time to (with her husband, Charles) prepare for a big family birthday dinner in honor of her daughter, Suzanne. Mrs. Benoy had been attending the always interesting "Conference of Rehabilitation Centers"—this year held in French Lick, Indiana. Helen and Floyd Templeton (and we) happily shuttled through the tunnel the other night to attend a dinner party given by "Lolly" and Jim White in Montclair.

Lolly used to be with NBC and their guest list would read like a T.V. and radio brochure. Always the most interesting and stimulating, to me, is lovely Ann Holden—WHAT a woman of wisdom!

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Parker of Orinda plan to spend Christmas at home with Mrs. Parker's parents, the Alex Salivoys, as house guests.

Golf, luncheon and a hand of bridge . . .

The Orinda Women's Golf Club held its Christmas party on Thursday, the eleventh. After nine holes of golf the "gals" enjoyed a sumptuous luncheon followed by a program and bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gray will be leaving on the 21st for a holiday vacation.

First they will visit in Yuma, Arizona, and then will go on to Mexico where they will spend Christmas and New Year—not returning until January 10. However, the day before leaving—a family Christmas and open house is planned with some 150 guests invited from all over the Bay area and Stockton.

The Grays are members of the Stockton Country Club. As a matter of fact most of their weekends are spent in this heavenly fashion: The Grays "park" their boat at the Stockton Yacht Harbor and then play golf. The boat's name is "Omoo" which means "the wanderer"—and wander they do—all through the Delta region, using a smaller skiff to explore the tiny channels. If you've never been on such an excursion—you've missed something!

The lush green-ness, the quiet, the eerie, tropical sounds take one to another world—another land, and it's wonderful!

Dorothy and Lance Barden of Orinda will have with them for the holidays their son, Ensign Stephen Barden, his wife and their eight-month-old daughter. The young family is stationed in Seattle, Washington. Other happy parents are Dorothy and Everett Bargones who will have as their house guests their daughter, Norine, her husband, "Skip" May and their three children. The Mays are arriving from Honolulu where they have made their home since their marriage in 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lang will be off soon for Los Angeles where they will visit with their daughter, Marcia Louise, who was here for the Thanksgiving holidays.

A gay Christmas party was held by the Orinda Orioles at the home of Helja Chase. Rena Hart, Cleta Stanley and Kay Arends were co-hostesses. New officers were installed. Pat Sergeant (who dresses so elegantly that one wouldn't suspect that her favorite pastime is "ridin' the range" on her favorite mare) is the new president. Other officers are Nan Davidson, Rene Kennedy, Elizabeth Folliard, Reva Hart, Ruth Walker and Eva Parker. Following the meeting a good time was had by all as the members feasted, chatted and played bridge.

Just a short business meeting . . .

The Lombardy Branch had a similar party—with a short business meeting held first at June (Mrs. George) Merriam's home in Sleepy Hollow. There, too, new officers were installed. June, the outgoing chairman, turned over her duties to the new—Dorothy (Mrs. Art) Lundblad).

Incidentally—much talk about Art's new dental offices opening in January in the beautiful new building situated in the Pine Grove in Orinda. Following the meeting, toasts were toasted and gifts were gifted and then the group trooped over to the Orinda Country Club for a festive luncheon.

Fran (Mrs. John) Anderson invited members of her wedding committee for luncheon last Monday. Fran, whose greatest love—next to her husband darling little daughter, Sally—is interior decoration had garnished her lovely home on San Miguel Road in Walnut Creek so artistically that "House Beautiful" would turn "green." Her latest venture is attending a portrait painting class—and for a rank beginner the results are astounding.

Guests were the Mmes. George Green, Virgil Yonce, June Winterton, William Nodder, Ed Wagner and I. Oh, yes—she can COOK, too. Mmmmm, that deviled crab and Ohhhh, those hot, high, home-made rolls!

Dancing and fun for all . . .

The "Pandoras" of the Children's Home Society staged their annual "Holiday Dinner Dance" at Orinda Country Club the other night and reports are that it was the VERY best. Dancing was especially fun for the band played such a variety of selections—tangos, polkas, sambas, the Charleston and such.

As always, the club's dinner was superb—with either lobster thermidor or roast beef available. Inger (Mrs. Robert) Beckett was in charge and Bea (Mrs. Robert) Hendricksen, president, greeted guests with her husband. Two of the many pre-dance parties were given by Virginia and Al McCann and Ruth and John Marchfield.

A few of the couples spotted chatting at the many tables centered with large candles entwined with greens were Margo and Stu Love, Bea and Art Comerford, Marion and Bill Fiset, Betty and Ed Bergen, Edith and Bill Scatena, Jean and Bob Neylan and Doris and Jack Frazer.

Daughters To Install Officers

Installation of new officers will be held January 10 at the Walnut Creek Masonic Hall by the Job's Daughters Bethel No. 238.

They are Joyce Connors, honored queen; Carolyn Canty, junior princess; Pam Frost, senior princess.

Beverly Phillips, fourth messenger; Marge Payne, fifth messenger; Kathy Hait, treasurer; Allenna Becher, inner guard.

Margaret O'Dell, outer guard; Sandy Hoskins, musician; Rosalie Guidi, librarian; Deadra Flinchbough, custodian; Vicki Browrick, senior custodian.

Beta Sigma Phi Dinner Has Casserole

On December 16, Mrs. Arthur Herring held a buffet dinner for members of Tau Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at her home on Ravenwood Drive, Walnut Creek.

The turkey casserole was in keeping with the season and the table looked very festive with the salads molded in Christmas trees and other holiday designs.

For dessert, petit fours were served, decorated as Christmas packages with a candle and the girl's names on them.

Attending were Mesdames Bea Anderson, Dick Boyle, Bob Bradley, Art Brittain, James Cooley, John Evonuik, Gene Hagler, Vic Hughes, John Iaconis.

Mesdames Jim Iverson, Emmit Laidlaw, Vic Senecal, Bob Sherman, Wally Tyacke, Ken Webster, Don Williams, Oline Laidlaw, Jack Nesbit, Charles Vaughn.

Bobolinks Sing Thank You Note

The Bobolinks of the Mount Diablo Therapy Center want to thank all the people who helped make their Bake Sale such a success. The profits were approximately $84.

The Bobbie's next activity is a joint dance with the Dianas of the Lincoln Foster Children's Home. The dance will be held Saturday.

Teen, Community Center Is Women's Club Goal

Ygnacio Valley residents need a teen-center and a community center, and activities for both can be housed in the same building.

The only problem is finding the building, or the land on which to construct the building, somewhere in Ygnacio Valley, and arranging financing.

This is the opinion of the Ygnacio Valley Women's Club members who organized about a year ago, and who will celebrate their first anniversary next Tuesday with a tea at the home of Mrs. A. A. Nickel of 480 Arbol Via, Walnut Creek.

THE 28 CLUB members also hope to double their numbers with a membership drive, which is now under the direction of Committee Chairman Mrs. Herbert Hauser.

Mrs. George Hartwig, club president, told The Sun, "Our club was created a year ago with the express purpose of creating a center where the young people of Ygnacio Valley can hold dances and other activities, and where the people can find a place for their cultural activities.

She continued, "We have looked at some land in Heather Farm, but it seems that this was not possible. But after Christmas we will look into another 'lead' we have."

"I would certainly like to see something definite by the time I leave office next June, but we shall just have to see how it works out.

THE PROJECT becomes more practical if the building can have more than one use, and we need a place where we can hang paintings, hold exhibits, have various displays and so forth," she said.

Mrs. Harry Morrison, publicity chairman, said that members have discussed procuring a site of one to three acres, and the necessary building might have rooms for dancing, preparing foods, lounging, sports and parties.

However, plans are not definite.

How big a job the financing will be will depend on how good a deal the members can get, and whether they can find a building, or must construct one.

TO RAISE money they have held several social events, including an apron parade fashion show, a swim-dinner party, a dessert bridge party and most recently, the exhibition and awarding of two high-quality dolls, with complete wardrobes.

Mrs. George Arentz was chairman of the doll project. The dolls went to Mrs. V. A. Plumb of Concord and Mrs. B. Sherrard of Walnut Creek.

The club's membership drive will continue until February 1.

The anniversary social event next Tuesday will run from 2 to 4 p.m. Frances Moore of Martinez will sing, and Mrs. Ray Taylor will accompany her on the piano.

THE OFFICERS of the club are as follows: Mesdames Hartwig, president; Fred Kruse, vice president; Frances Sparks, secretary; Rene Chessellet, treasurer; Kenneth Brogan, parliamentarian.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Mesdames Nickel, building committee; Herbert Hauser, membership; Andrew Catto, amenities; Charles Downing, reservations; Morrison, publicity; George Swallow, social.

The Building Committee has Mesdames Nickel, Sparks, Hauser and Hartwig.

Golf Xmas Lunch Held

At Meadowbrook Golf Club on Reliez Valley and Grayson Roads, the ladies Golf Christmas luncheon was launched with a morning golf clinic by Pro Larry Mancour.

Mrs. Robert Williams of Walnut Creek shot a 56.

Mrs. Albert Taylor of Walnut Creek provided punch for all in attendance prior to the luncheon. Gifts were were distributed to the group.

Mancour announced that he and his assistant, Tom McCormick, will fly to Michigan for Christmas, but will return in time for the big New Year's Eve party.

Thetas Help Kids In Hospital Ward

Children participating in speech therapy at Herrick Memorial Hospital will have their Christmas brightened by toys and a Christmas tree.

Mrs. Roger C. Dunn, Lafayette, Kappa Alpha Theta Junior Alumnae vice president, helped present gifts and decorate the tree.

Miss Yeager Will Marry March 15

The engagement of Miss Carole Ann Yeager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Yeager of Walnut Creek, was announced this week.

Miss Yeager will marry Warren C. Hegg Jr. of Dallas, Texas, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Carole is a 1956 graduate of Las Lomas High School and a past worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Walnut Creek Assembly No. 84.

She attended the University of California, Berkeley, and then became an airline hostess.

Carole and Warren will be married March 15 at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. The announcement was made at a dinner party in Dallas, Texas.

As a hostess for American Airlines, Carole resides in Dallas.

Three Hour Day Earns S. Claus Hospital Plaudit

For his visits to Merrit Hospital patients each Christmas morning, Santa Claus has become the first "member" of the Merritt Hospital Volunteers to receive commendation for only three hours of work a year.

"Santa was one volunteer we felt could not serve on a regular basis," Mrs. James MacDonald of Orinda, president of the Merritt auxiliary, explained. "But like all our volunteers, he provides supplementary service which is welcomed by Merritt Hospital patients.

Last official awards of American Hospital Association pins included the Mmes. Paul Samson, 3959 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette; John G. Gompertz, 21 Santa Lucia, Orinda; Mrs. Arthur Hunnicutt, 848 Sibert Court, Lafayette; G. Willard Miller Jr., 30 Los Cascades, Orinda; Mrs. Joseph Nicolet, 76 Terry Lane, Orinda.

More than 100 attended, from all parts of the Bay Area.

Orindans included the Messrs. and Mmes William Ellermeyer, Ray O'Flyng, Bruce McGauley, Richard Darnstad, William Gracey, Paul Harrison, Ed Le Gant, Harold Scott and F. W. Thrane.

Steve had a great zest for living. He loved fine music, art, literature. He not only wrote prose beautifully, but he wrote poetry with depth of insight and meaning. He contributed much to his friends, giving willingly of himself to those with whom he shared a multitude of interests in file.

And he loved adventure.

During his last summer he traveled to Oregon by varied means of transportation. He lived and worked on a farm, savoring the exppperience. He was interested in many divergent types of people and places. He explored and searched for these and discovered hidden facets of both.

Not only did Steve write the editorials for his newspaper, he was an editor in every sense of the word, assuming the responsibility to create a product of quality. His attention ot detail and his desire to achieve the highest standards influenced those with whom he worked.

HE DIDN'T ATTEMPT to perform a one man job. Although the newspaper inevitably reflected some of the character of its editor, he was able to instill in his fellow students the eagerness to strive for constant improvement. He could work well with others.

Life was full and fascinating for Steve, with never enough time

While Steve lived through those last hours of agony, there were to accomplish all that he wanted to do, to see, to experience. His plans for the future were fine.

Contributing actively to each phase of his senior year in high school, he was anticipating college entrance in September of 1958.

While Steve lived through those last hours of agony, there were many who waited to hear that he would survive . . . to fulfill his dreams . . . and their hopes for him.

BUT ON JANUARY 2, 1958, Steven Mark Lewis was released from his immediate suffering and from the life he had loved and served so well.

Trans-Polar Flight Ends Local Girls' Paris Trip

Two young Lafayette ladies landed Saturday at International Airport after spending almost three months in France, ending a 21-hour trans-Polar flight that originated in London.

They were Judith, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bird, and Alice, 13, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Gray.

Their parents were on hand to greet them.

Only flight weights limits kept them from being loaded with the many packages of feminine apparel they purchased in Paris.

JUDY MONDAY resumed school work, in which she and Alice kept up by means of private Parisisons tutors, at Acalanes High. Judy's a sophomore and Alice is a freshman.

The girls arrived September 10 in Paris, where they were greeted by Madame Jean Couturie, Mrs. Gray's cousin, and whisked by limousine to Mme. Couturie's Chateau du Mesnil, 70 miles from the city.

Later they stayed in Paris with the Baroness Marie Bacyens, Mrs. Gray's sister.

Mrs. Gray is the daughter of San Mateo's Mrs. Cecilia Clark, a member of the Tobin family, famous among pioneer founders of California, with interests including mining.

JUDY'S SISTER, 18, a student on the UC Riverside campus, recently visited Denmark. Her twin brother, John, is a student at Acalanes.

Dr. Gray, who as a plastic surgeon maintains offices in Oakland, and Mrs. Gray have two children.

They are Gerald, now studying philosophy at Yale, who has also attended Cornell, Harvard and UC at Berkeley, and Mrs. John (Celia) Cummings, whose husband is a professor at the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Holiday or Not, Sun Classifieds Get Results

Holidays or not, The Sun and Sun Shopping News classified ad columns are the most read and used in the central county area—just ask any Sun "class ad" customer!

Here are some examples of quick service, which only The Sun can offer, with its free-distribution "Shopper" to 38,000 homes, and four separate, widely-read community newspapers.

C. V. Kershner, Juniper Drive, Concord, sold his miniature train, with two locomotives for $100 with no delay.

R. TAYLOR of Bell Street, Lafayette, sold a chesterfield, an overstuffed chair, dropleaf dining table and radio phonograph, all in the same ad, which appeared for only one week.

S. H. Quarterman of Bell Avenue, Walnut Creek, sold his Mexican Chihuahua puppies easily.

A 1952 Ford "6" automatic drive car was sold by J. Gonzales of Roberta Avenue, Pleasant Hill. He received 10 phone calls in answer to his Sun classified.

Mrs. Edna Mueniet's gas circulating heater, 25,000 BTU, went quickly. She is a resident of Palomares, Lafayette.

A SUN classified goes into five papers, including the "Shopping News" for only $1.60, the minimum rate for 14 or less words.

You can place your ad by phone. Be sure to call anytime during the day on Monday in the week you wish it to appear in the Wednesday "Shopper" and the Friday subscription papers. Call YE 4-5000 or AT 4-4444.

The subscription papers are the Lafayette Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun'

Heart Fund Has Volunteers for Solicitations

Organization of an Industry Committee for the 1959 Heart Fund was announced this week by Chester Bekins, Heart Fund chairman of the Contra Costa Heart Association.

"For the first time in a Heart Fund drive in this county, we have organized a group of volunteers to collect contributions from large firms and businesses," Bekins said.

"This is in line with our effort to broaden the base of giving in order to meet an increased goal for Heart Association research and other programs," he added.

He said that collections last year, largely from the Heart Sunday residential drive in February, amounted to $45,552. Quota for this year is $60,000.

"Chapters all over the nation have accepted larger quotas this year in an effort to increase funds available for research into the heart diseases which are taking an increasing toll of lives in our nation," Bekins said.

He pointed out that in terms of economic loss, production costs due to heart disease add up to over three billion dollars a year. "Therefore," he said, "industry has a real stake in the conquest of heart disease."

Local Women To Lead Heart Sunday Drive

Three prominent local women have been named to direct the 1959 Heart Sunday drive in Walnut Creek, according to Chester Bekins, chairman of the county Heart Fund.

Sharing duties as chairmen will be Mrs. William C. Claraty, 436 Marshall Drive; Mrs. C. C. Willert, 2393 Warren Road and Mrs. W. C. Allen, 5339 Pine Hollow Road.

Heart Sunday is scheduled for February 15. More than 500 volunteers will stage a two-hour residential drive for contributions to fight the heart diseases.

Because of the extensive area to be covered, the city has been divided into three geographical sections with a chairman directing volunteers in each, Bekins said.

He added, "Last year under the direction of Mrs. Charles L. Jack, the Heart Sunday drive in Walnut Creek netted $4422, the largest amount collected to date. This year, we hope to do even better."

Mrs. Claraty was Heart Sunday chairman in 1957 and worked as volunteer and captain in other Heart Sundays for the past four days.

She is president of the Junior Women's Club of Walnut Creek. She is the mother of three children — Cynthia, 10; Pamela, 7; and Billy, 4.

Mrs. Willert has been active in school and P.T.A. work for many years. She has two school age children — Charles, 16, and Carol Ann, 12, and a married daughter, Mrs. Joe Pereira, Jr., of Martinez. She is president of Starling Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, and treasurer of the Women's Auxiliary to the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Contra Costa County.

Berkeley Bank Interest Pay Is Firm Record

Berkeley Savings and Loan Association this week announced its savings account holders will receive a record breaking $663,692 interest payment for the six months period ending December 31.

According to Vern Streifford, vice president and manager of Berkeley Savings, this is the largest interest disbursement in the Association's 36-year history.

Automobile factories in the United States turned out a total of 4,120,913 motor vehicles during the period from January 1 through November 15 this year.

Carbert is Tax Group's Leader

L. E. Carbert, president of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association, announced today the appointment of E. R. Parks of Lafayette as chairman of the tax group's permanent committee on health and welfare.

Parks has been a member of the committee for two years and is a senior consultant with the national management consulting firm of Ernst and Ernst.

Parks replaces Robert Lundeen, who had resigned due to the pressure of other civic activities. Lundeen will remain a member of the Health and Welfare Committee.

The Committee will begin its new program of studies in January, Chairman Parks announced.

He requested that any taxpayer interested should make suggestions to to program to the office of the county tax group at 620 Las Juntas Street, Martinez.

Safety Contest Is Underway

Youngsters whose mothers or fathers work in Bay Area industrial plants have been given an opportunity to direct their imagination and artistic talents toward accident prevention, and in so doing perhaps win Savings Bonds, it was announced.

The Northern California Industrial Safety Society, engineering section of the Safety Council's Industrial Division, is sponsoring a Safety Poster Contest open to any boy or girl, six to 18, whose father or mother works in a Bay Area Industrial Plant.

According to Milt Murdock, Safety Consultant of Franklin Optical Company, Oakland and chairman of the Poster Committee, entry forms carrying rules and suggestions are available at the Eastbay Chapter National Safety Council, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland.

He said the contest is divided into three periods, each with a different theme for basing poster entries. The first contest period is Traffic Safety, ending January 15; second is Industrial Safety, ending March 15, and the third is Home Safety, ending May 15.

Contestants have been divided into three age groups: six through nine, 10 through 13, and 14 through 18. Winners of each group in each contest period will receive a $25 Savings Bond, and also are eligible for the Sweepsteak Award of a $50 Savings Bond.

Job Examination Called By EBMUD

The final date for filing applications is Monday, with the examination to be given January 8 in Oakland.

Applicants, male only, must have graduated from high school and had five years employment in inspecting and approving construction work, or in employment as a working foreman directing construction.

This employment must have included reinforced concrete and underground pipeline construction experience.

Applicants may have any equivalent combination of experience and related college engineering training, substituting education for experience on a year for year basis up to a maximum of four years.

Applicants must be willing to work out-of-doors under a variety of climatic and geographic conditions, and to work long and unusual hours when the situation demands it. They must also possess a California driver's license and have a satisfactory driving record.

The salary range begins at $502, advancing to $530 after six months, and $560 after 18 months.

Applications and further information may be obtained at the EBMUD personnel division, 2127 Adeline Street, Oakland, or at any EBMUD business office.

Sales of Seals Reaches $40,508

The sale of Christmas Seals in Contra Costa County during the first five weeks of the campaign brought in a total of $40,508.

In making his report, Dr. C. J. Hart, Christmas Seal Sale Chairman, pointed out that the Christmas Seal Sale is carried on only through the mail to homes in the county.

"The tuberculosis association does not sell Seals from door-to-door or solicit contributions in plants or offices," he said.

"So please don't wait for someone to bother you. Send in your contribution today in the return envelope you received with your Christmas Seals."

The total income received from Christmas Seals is spent each year in the TB control work of this Association.

Home Ec Group Plan Meeting

Teachers' Salaries Are Submitted to Association

Teachers earnings $7000 or more number 37 in the Acalanes High School District, 17 in the Walnut Creek Elementary District, 17 in the Orinda Elementary District and three in the Lafayette Elementary District.

These and other figures were obtained last week by the County Taxpayers Association from the office of County Superintendent of Schools B. O. Wilson.

The association requested them for use in its continuing study of the costs of public taxing agencies.

IN THE ACALANES District, 37 make $7000 or more, but 11 make under $4900.

The salaries between are somewhat evenly distributed for the total of about 150 teachers.

Of the 150 teachers, only 38 make less than $5000 per year and 60 make $6000 a year or more.

In the entire county, which has six "non-unified" high school districts, there are 188 teachers making $7500 or more. This does not include the Mt. Diablo Unified District, which was not included in the report.

THE FIGURES for the Walnut Creek District show that while 17 teachers make $7000 or more, there are eight teachers making $4400 or less.

Of the total of some 135 teachers in the Walnut Creek District, the largest group, of 30, falls into the $6000 to $6099 classification.

Thirteen make $6600 to $6699; 12 make $6300 to $6399; 14 make $5000 to $5099, and 12 make $4400 to $4499.

The Orinda School District teachers all make at least $4400, and only seven of the some 90 teachers are in the minimum $4400 to $4499 bracket.

THERE ARE 13 in the $7000-plus bracket and 31 in the $600-plus bracket, which total includes all the higher brackets.

The Lafayette District has 138 teachers, with 10 earning under $4400, and three earning $7000 or more.

The average salary is about $5400 in the Lafayette district.

The Alamo School District has about 30 teachers, making an average salary of $5500. One teacher makes $6600.

MORAGA DISTRICT has five teachers according to the report. Salaries vary from under $4400 to $4800.

Of the 24 elementary districts listed for the county, the Richmond District is the largest, with 416 elementary teachers. Of these, 211 make $6900 or more. The Richmond High School District also has a similarly large number of "upper-bracket" teachers.

The taxpayer's bulletin, "The Spolight" also paraphrased an author for the "Tax Digest," and said he concluded by saying that there can be no satisfactory answer to the problem of teacher salaries until it is recognized that "not the teachers are underpaid, but some teachers."

McCunn to Head Easter Seal Drive In Feb., March

Drummond J. McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District, will head the 1959 Easter Seal Drive in Contra Costa County, it was announced.

The drive will start February 27 and run through March 29.

McCunn said he had the highest hopes that adequate funds will be raised this year, enabling the Society to continue its effective job in Contra Costa.

He pointed out that the organization operates a shelter workshop as a training center for the handicapped, arranges a summer camp program, conducts preschool training for handicapped youngsters and their mothers, offers counseling services for older groups and their families. and maintains a loan clost of wheel chairs, hospital beds, and other necessary items.

In 31 years as an educator and superintendent, Dr. McCunn has had responsible assignments in local, state and national organizations close to the education of youth and community service.

Before coming to Contra Costa in 1949 as the junior college district's first employee, he was a teacher and later assistant superintendent of Pasadena City Schools.

During this period he was president of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, receiving a Freedoms Foundation national award, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, and Pasadena Teachers Association.

Cheerleaders

At a recent election held at the home of the Fairview Falcons, cheerleaders were elected to lead their respective classes in supporting the after school teams. The fifth graders elected Rosemary Mancini, Ginny Van Gelder, and Karen Riddle, while the sixth grade rooms chose Diane Hollister, Sharon Stutz and Pat Vincent.

Summer Jobs For Teenagers

The Central and Eastern Contra Costa Youth Employment Guidance Committee is steadily working towards fulfillment of its goal—more summer jobs in a wider area for teen-agers in 1959.

Lt. Robert Bahl of the Concord Police Department is chairman of the committee including employers, labor union, service and civic club and governmental representatives.

Stuart Raised To High Post On PG&E Staff

Roy F. Stuart of No. 4 La Campana, Orinda, has been promoted to the post of general superintendent of Pacific Gas and Electric Company substations, it was announced.

Stuart joined the utility after his graduation from the University of California in 1925, and has been in substation operations for 12 years.

He began his career with the firm in the Eastbay Division's construction department, and has been in the firm's San Francisco headquarters office since 1951.

He succeeds Harold T. Stucliffe.

Judge Says No To Heirs of Mrs. Mary Jones

Superior Judge Norman Greeg has ruled that the Alamo School site right of purchase accorded Mrs. Mary Jones does not extend to her heirs, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Jones.

Mrs. Jones donated the site 80 years ago, with the option to buy it back for $250 in gold coin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones brought a suit to exercise the option as her heirs. The clause in the original grant was discovered when trustees learned that the old campus must be abandoned.

Salaries Take 67 Cents of Elementary School Dollar

Salaries of teachers and secretaries took the biggest part of the school dollar spent last year in Contra Costa County.

County Superintendent B. O. Wilson said the annual financial report by his office shows 67 cents of the elementary school dollar expended for teachers' salaries. This is 66 cents in both the high school and unified district dollar; 3 cents of each dollar for clerical and secretarial help. Also 58 cents of the junior college dollar for teachers' salaries and 9 cents for clerical work.

NEXT LARGEST category of current expenses is operation of the school plant, covering salaries of custodians, supplies and utilities. Expended on these were 10 cents of the elementary and unified dollar, 11 cents of the high school dollar and 8 cents of the junior college dollar.

Administration costs were 5 cents each out of the elementary and junior college dollar, 4 cents of the high school dollar and 3 cents of the unified dollar.

Other major items were as follows: transportation — elementary, 4 cents; unified, 3 cents; and high school and junior college, 2 cents; maintenance of school plant, including costs of painting and repairing — unified, 4 cents and elementary, high school and junior college, 3 cents.

Remaining budget categories which account for the rest of the school dollar are auxiliary services, including health services, and fixed charges, covering retirement contributions and insurance.

WHILE THE figures quoted are the county averages, expenditures vary from one district to another.

For example, the amount of the school dollar spent on teachers' salaries ranges from 61 cents to 72 cents among the elementary districts.

Size of district and type of organization, local financial conditions and other factors govern the pattern of expenditures, said Wilson.

Actual amounts expended for current operation and the number of pupils served were as follows: Level, Elementary, total expenditure, $13,602,339; attendance, 40,791; High School and Junior High, $9,931,121; and 20,295; Unified (elementary and high), $12,757,843; and 33,660; Junior College, $2,048,564; and 3,740.

Wilson pointed out that food service, community services and capital outlay are not included
